

Isaiah

Big Idea

Isaiah is a book of judgment and hope, a book that repeatedly looks at the old (rebellion, idolatry, and injustice) being purified into the new (justice and peace for all nations). Through the suffering Servant-King, God is creating a covenant family from all nations. This covenant family will live in hope until they can inhabit a renewed creation!

Scripture: Isaiah 52:13-53:12

Discussion Questions

What has challenged you, changed you, or confused you from this week's sermon or the book of Isaiah?

How does this passage increase your faith in Jesus? How does it increase your hope?

Can you think of examples where someone has given first-class allegiance to second-class causes? What were the results?

Have you ever misplaced your allegiance (in big or small ways)?

What obstacles to loving others are you experiencing right now?

The sermon used the illustration of filling a jar with different things in order to show the significance of putting the most important things first. What do you have in your "jar of life" that isn't one of the most important things? What is the Holy Spirit prompting you to remove from your life? What is He prompting you to put in?
